

D. C. GUARDSMEN READY TO MOVE

But Few Things Left to Do Before Soldiers Quit Camp Ordway Monday.

3D INFANTRY TO GO TO FORT SAM HOUSTON

Men Visit Relatives and Participate in Social Functions in Anticipation of Departure.

With the exception of the issuance of some winter clothing, Troop A, District Cavalry, and Battery B, Field Artillery, are practically ready to embark Monday. The hour for the departure had not been set last night, but it is probable that they will leave at the same hour at which the other troops left, 6 o'clock in the evening. The greater part of the equipment of these two organizations had been loaded yesterday, and last night all that remained to be done was to pack some personal equipment and to drop the baggage and roll it up. The "general" will be sounded on the bugle Monday morning, when all of the tents of these two organizations will fall.

Field Guns Are Loaded.

The field guns and caissons of Battery A were loaded yesterday, and now are secured on the flat cars in the Rosslyn railroad yards, where a guard has been placed over them and other property loaded on the trains.

In the 3d Infantry section of the camp, as much preparation as is possible has been made. The surplus equipment in the supply company tents has been packed. But the soldiers have to use all of their equipment almost to the minute of embarkment, and therefore most of it must be left until an hour or so before the departure.

The tentage of the 3d Infantry will be dropped and rolled up Wednesday morning, according to the present plans, and will be sent in transport wagons to the freight cars which will be placed on the siding at Rosslyn. The soldiers have been at Camp Ordway so long that many of them have accumulated fair-sized wardrobes. They cannot, of course, take these in the field with them, and last night many of them were seen returning to Washington with suit cases filled with clothing and other personal equipment which they had taken from their homes.

In this city from time to time during the embarkment.

Troops to Travel Light.

When the troops board the train at Rosslyn they will travel just as light as on the day when they marched to Fort Myer to go into camp, apparently only for a short stay. The tents were practically cleared of everything last night except military equipment. Passes were very generous last night for the men, and many of them left to spend the last few hours with their relatives and friends in this city. Members of Troop A, cavalry, gave a dance last night at Bauser's, at which practically every member of the troop was present. The only ones in camp were the members of the guard.

There will be no passes tomorrow for the members of the organizations which are to leave tomorrow night, and after Monday night passes probably will be few for the members of the 3d Infantry. Every effort will be made to keep the men in camp so that there will be no absenteeism when the trains pull out.

The War Department last night announced that the 3d Infantry and Troop A would go to Fort Sam Houston for duty.

MICHIGAN GUARDSMEN ORDERED TO THE BORDER

The War Department yesterday ordered the 33d Regiment of Infantry, Cavalry Troops A and B, Field Hospital, No. 1, Ambulance Company No. 1, one company of engineers and Signal Corps, Batteries A and B of Field Artillery, all of Michigan, to the border.

Directions also were sent to Gen. Funston instructing him to return to home stations more guard organizations already on the border as soon as the Michigan troops arrive there. Under the usual proportion, 1,500 to 2,000 guardsmen will be relieved.

Assignments Announced.

Assignments of National Guard troops ordered to the border Thursday were announced yesterday by the War Department, as follows: Second Florida Infantry, to Laredo; Third New York Field Artillery, Connecticut, two batteries; Colorado, two batteries; District of Columbia, one battery; Georgia, battalion field artillery; Michigan, two batteries, all to El Paso; Virginia, four batteries; New Hampshire, one battery; and District of Columbia, regiment of Infantry, and troop of cavalry, to Fort Sam Houston; Alabama, two batteries, and New Jersey, one battery, to Douglas, Ariz.; Minnesota, battalion of field artillery to Leno Grande; California, company engineers, to Nogales, Ariz.

WILLIAM J. WILSON TAKES CHARGE OF R. R. TERMINAL

Trainmaster Promoted to Superintendency to Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation.

William J. Wilson of this city, and since 1908 trainmaster of the Washington Terminal Company, today assumes charge of the terminal as its superintendent, succeeding A. M. Kerp-pel, who resigned. The selection of Mr. Wilson is a promotion for him. Since he came to Washington as instructor in the Washington terminal in 1907 his advancement has been rapid. As instructor he had direct charge of arranging the methods for conducting the big plant. He came here with much experience, having been in the railroad business all his life.

Is Native of Pennsylvania.

He is a native of Lehigh county, Pennsylvania, where he was born May 15, 1866. Educated in public schools of Philadelphia, he became a telegraph operator and operated railroad lines in dispatching trains. He was with the Pennsylvania railroad for a number of years, and in 1898 he went to Boston, where he directed the work of opening the North station of the Boston terminal. He then returned to the Pennsylvania railroad at the Broad street station, Philadelphia. There he remained until 1907, when he came to Washington to direct the work of arranging for handling the trains in the Washington terminal. In the same year he was made acting general yardmaster, and in December, 1908, trainmaster. This position he held until his present promotion, on the duties of which he has just entered.

Handled Large Crowds.

Mr. Wilson in his various capacities at the Washington terminal has directed the movement of trains and handled the crowds during the inauguration and G. A. R. encampment. The appointment of Mr. Wilson was made yesterday by President Samuel Rea of the Washington Terminal Company and the Pennsylvania railroad.

DIPLOMATS TO BE GUESTS.

Kittens and Barbecue to Be Given for War Widows.

For the benefit of the war widows of Germany and Austria-Hungary, a kittens and barbecue is to be held Wednesday and Thursday at the residence of A. Loeffler, 3730 Georgia avenue northwest, to which notable members of the diplomatic corps are invited to be special guests. In this list are Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador; Baron Zwiernicki, Austrian charge d'affaires; Stephen Panaretov, Bulgarian minister to this country, and Abdul Hak Hussein Bey, charge d'affaires of the Turkish legation.

H. G. Winkler is secretary and William F. Neuland, treasurer.

The plans as proposed include a parade Wednesday starting at 10th and 32nd streets northeast and proceeding along Maryland avenue, Pennsylvania avenue and 14th street.

Mrs. Catherine Marquard Injured.

Mrs. Catherine Marquard, sixty-six years old, 642 F street northeast, yesterday afternoon was knocked down by an automobile operated by Abraham Krupshaw, 737 21st street, in front of Union station. She was taken to Casualty Hospital and treated for slight concussion and shock.

Benefit to Be Given at Poli's.

A theater benefit at Poli's will be given Monday night for the Washington Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital.
